Brunello di Montalcino, Sesta di Sopra

Brunello di Montalcino 2015

Tasted blind. Deep ruby with bright orange tinges. Lots of concentrated dark fruit on the nose as well as the palate and with bags of powerful tannins. Quite a powerful and concentrated wine, almost a bit too much. Drink 2020-2028.

Brunello di Montalcino 2016

Youthful mid-ruby. Ripe, perfumed cherry fruit with a peppery tingle and hints of laurel. Concentrated, juicy cherry fruit with grainy, bitter-sweet tannins that take the lead on the finish. Can be approached now.

Brunello di Montalcino 2016, Riserva

Lustrous ruby with narrow, orange rim. Deep and a little brooding on the nose. Deep cherry fruit on the palate with the perfect dose of acidity. Still, a little compact but can already be approached. Well balanced and with sandpapery tannins.

Brunello di Montalcino 2017

Mid ruby with the beginning of orange tinges. Brooding richness on the nose and sappy concentrated cherry fruit on the palate with bags of chewy tannins. Not the most complex, but nevertheless satisfying
